

SATURDAY, JAN. 15, 1893.

OUR CITIZEN-SOLDIERS.

One of the peculiarly conspicuous features of Gov. Plaistead's message, is the affection of fear that our liberties may be endangered by our citizen-soldiers. For a man who has so persistently traded upon his "war record" and so insinuatingly involved every tie of comradeship that could be used as a string to pull him in the direction of office, he offers to the militia by charging that a peaceful pageant at Washington by men most of whom have perilled their lives to preserve our free institutions, may prove as fatal to the Republic as Caesar's passage of the Rubicon, is shameful beyond characterization.

It is a matter of political history that Earle M. Plaistead has more than once sought to excite the sympathy of soldiers for his own benefit, than any other man in Maine, and that he owes a large share of his success in self-seeking to the support he has wheedled out of honest soldiers by pretending to be especially their representative and champion.

When he tried to rally his former comrades under the black banner of the State Troves last summer, and they refused to follow him, on the contrary, repudiated him and showed him up as a humbug, he found his teeth and longed for an opportunity to vent his spite. He found it in the delivery of an inaugural harangue in which he warns the people against the citizen soldiers, who have proved—instead of enemies—the very bulwarks of the Republic.

A Governor who sustains the Garcelon Gang, objects to the State Constitution, expresses contempt for the Judiciary, and impugns the patriotism of our volunteer soldiers, is indeed a humiliating spectacle for Maine.

COMMENTS ON PLAISTEAD'S MESSAGE. The Portland Argus and Bangor Commercial are delighted with Plaistead's harangue, but the Boston Post has deferred its comment.

The Lewiston Journal devotes two-thirds of a half-column editorial to approval of Plaistead's hackneyed generalities, and very fully regales some of his utterances. The Commercial cheerfully copies a large part of the Journal's editorial.

The Waterville Mail goes further, and in remarks that must astonish its Republican readers, extols the message in the highest terms, and even commends his Greenback and Communion rant as "worthy of legislative consideration."

The Portland Press does not try to conceal its disgust for the demagogue whom it was so anxious to make Governor, with a view to the idea of its indignation (as a brief editorial and a number of paragraphs).

The Kennebec Journal vigorously denounces the harangue as a "relaxation" of the Fusion speeches of the last campaign, and says the Republicans who voted him into place "had a right to presume that he would not pull out the banner of the last campaign in his other faces, and not stoop to the lowest demagoguery."

I scathingly rebukes his indecent assault upon the Judiciary of the State.

SPEAKERSHIP AND SENATORSHIP. The following statements, telegraphed by special correspondent "Webb" to the Boston Journal, on what authority we do not know, is directly in conflict with a statement given in the Tribune a few days ago, purporting to be fully authorized:

Mr. Frye, for political reasons, has withdrawn from the contest for the Speakership of the House of Representatives, an office to which there was every probability that he would have been elected. Mr. Frye will be a candidate for the Senate from Maine to fill a vacancy which there is the best of reasons for stating will be created. Mr. Frye has withdrawn from the Speakership canvass at the advice of his friends, among them Senator Blaine. The vacancy in the United States Senate from Maine is expected to be filled by Mr. Frye.

Mr. Frye expects to fill, undoubtedly be created before the adjournment of the Maine Legislature, and he is supposed to be the favorite of the Republicans of the State will permit a Democratic Governor to appoint a United States Senator to assist the Democracy in organizing the Senate after March 4th. Mr. Frye will prepare to publish his papers for the Senate. This conclusion would seem to set at rest all the rumors that Mr. Blaine is not to have a place in President Garfield's Cabinet.

Representative Strout, of Portland, was awarded the honor of heading the committee on the part of the House to wait upon Gen. Plaistead and request him to attend the Joint Convention and qualify as Governor.

John C. Talbot, of Machias, who boasted of his war record based on hiring one of his old horses to a contractor who transported soldiers in that section during the war, took occasion to declare, as chairman of the Fusion caucus at Augusta Thursday night, that the men counted in by the Garcelon gang last winter formed the legal Legislature of the State.

The Hon. Stephen Jennings begged the Fusion caucus to nominate S. J. Anderson for Senator, at a recognition of the Democrats. According to report he said every Democrat who had two dollars had given one of them to help elect Plaistead. "He thought it right the Greenbackers should open the doors and allow the Democrats to come in with them—if there was anything to eat." Well, there wasn't much to eat, but Mr. Greenbacker Strunk walked out with the dry bone of a nomination. Jennings and Anderson can walk in this evening and sup "at 50 cents per plate."

THE BANGOR WHO DOES ENGLISH INADEQUATE to express its feelings over Plaistead's election, and so drops into French—French.

It is said that many of the Republican members who joined with the Press in rushing Plaistead in, found two or three languages insufficient to voice their emotions when he finished that demagogic harangue.

Were Diogenes prowling about for honest men now the search would only cost him traveling expenses from Athens to Augusta—Portland Press, Friday.

We thought the editor of the Press and Postmaster Goddard had returned to Portland.

The Portland Press says: "A State paper that spans the immense gulf between Plaistead and Clever must necessarily be of extraordinary length."

The Commercial announces that the Fusionists are to give a complimentary dinner to Governor Plaistead this evening at the Exchange at "50 cents per plate" with a poem by Dr. Jordan thrown in. It will be a sweet time.

From the Boston Journal, Jan. 14.

Those who do not know the Governor of Maine are warranted in assuming that he is a Communist. Such is not the case; he is simply the outcome of twenty-five years of persistent office-seeking by a man of small calibre—a cheap demagogue.

These are hard things to say about a man who has been elected Chief Magistrate of a State, but they are more than true. He is a man who was known as an office-seeker. During the war he was constantly pestering his superiors for promotion, and although by accident he early became the Colonel of a regiment, his merits did not warrant his advancement. The war over, he set about place-seeking. It was his business day and night. It got to be well nigh a mania. That he was moderately successful is entirely due to that persistent and "continual coming" which has wearied others than unjust judges into overlooking deserving persons than poor wretches.

The long-suffering American citizen sometimes purchases immunity from the persistent office-seeker by acts which his respectability would not permit. Hence his success. He is a man who has been elected Chief Magistrate of a State, but they are more than true. He is a man who was known as an office-seeker. During the war he was constantly pestering his superiors for promotion, and although by accident he early became the Colonel of a regiment, his merits did not warrant his advancement. The war over, he set about place-seeking. It was his business day and night. It got to be well nigh a mania. That he was moderately successful is entirely due to that persistent and "continual coming" which has wearied others than unjust judges into overlooking deserving persons than poor wretches.

It is a matter of political history that Earle M. Plaistead has more than once sought to excite the sympathy of soldiers for his own benefit, than any other man in Maine, and that he owes a large share of his success in self-seeking to the support he has wheedled out of honest soldiers by pretending to be especially their representative and champion.

When he tried to rally his former comrades under the black banner of the State Troves last summer, and they refused to follow him, on the contrary, repudiated him and showed him up as a humbug, he found his teeth and longed for an opportunity to vent his spite. He found it in the delivery of an inaugural harangue in which he warns the people against the citizen soldiers, who have proved—instead of enemies—the very bulwarks of the Republic.

A Governor who sustains the Garcelon Gang, objects to the State Constitution, expresses contempt for the Judiciary, and impugns the patriotism of our volunteer soldiers, is indeed a humiliating spectacle for Maine.

COMMENTS ON PLAISTEAD'S MESSAGE. The Portland Argus and Bangor Commercial are delighted with Plaistead's harangue, but the Boston Post has deferred its comment.

The Lewiston Journal devotes two-thirds of a half-column editorial to approval of Plaistead's hackneyed generalities, and very fully regales some of his utterances. The Commercial cheerfully copies a large part of the Journal's editorial.

The Waterville Mail goes further, and in remarks that must astonish its Republican readers, extols the message in the highest terms, and even commends his Greenback and Communion rant as "worthy of legislative consideration."

The Portland Press does not try to conceal its disgust for the demagogue whom it was so anxious to make Governor, with a view to the idea of its indignation (as a brief editorial and a number of paragraphs).

The Kennebec Journal vigorously denounces the harangue as a "relaxation" of the Fusion speeches of the last campaign, and says the Republicans who voted him into place "had a right to presume that he would not pull out the banner of the last campaign in his other faces, and not stoop to the lowest demagoguery."

I scathingly rebukes his indecent assault upon the Judiciary of the State.

SPEAKERSHIP AND SENATORSHIP. The following statements, telegraphed by special correspondent "Webb" to the Boston Journal, on what authority we do not know, is directly in conflict with a statement given in the Tribune a few days ago, purporting to be fully authorized:

Mr. Frye, for political reasons, has withdrawn from the contest for the Speakership of the House of Representatives, an office to which there was every probability that he would have been elected. Mr. Frye will be a candidate for the Senate from Maine to fill a vacancy which there is the best of reasons for stating will be created. Mr. Frye has withdrawn from the Speakership canvass at the advice of his friends, among them Senator Blaine. The vacancy in the United States Senate from Maine is expected to be filled by Mr. Frye.

Mr. Frye expects to fill, undoubtedly be created before the adjournment of the Maine Legislature, and he is supposed to be the favorite of the Republicans of the State will permit a Democratic Governor to appoint a United States Senator to assist the Democracy in organizing the Senate after March 4th. Mr. Frye will prepare to publish his papers for the Senate. This conclusion would seem to set at rest all the rumors that Mr. Blaine is not to have a place in President Garfield's Cabinet.

Representative Strout, of Portland, was awarded the honor of heading the committee on the part of the House to wait upon Gen. Plaistead and request him to attend the Joint Convention and qualify as Governor.

John C. Talbot, of Machias, who boasted of his war record based on hiring one of his old horses to a contractor who transported soldiers in that section during the war, took occasion to declare, as chairman of the Fusion caucus at Augusta Thursday night, that the men counted in by the Garcelon gang last winter formed the legal Legislature of the State.

The Hon. Stephen Jennings begged the Fusion caucus to nominate S. J. Anderson for Senator, at a recognition of the Democrats. According to report he said every Democrat who had two dollars had given one of them to help elect Plaistead. "He thought it right the Greenbackers should open the doors and allow the Democrats to come in with them—if there was anything to eat." Well, there wasn't much to eat, but Mr. Greenbacker Strunk walked out with the dry bone of a nomination. Jennings and Anderson can walk in this evening and sup "at 50 cents per plate."

THE BANGOR WHO DOES ENGLISH INADEQUATE to express its feelings over Plaistead's election, and so drops into French—French.

It is said that many of the Republican members who joined with the Press in rushing Plaistead in, found two or three languages insufficient to voice their emotions when he finished that demagogic harangue.

Were Diogenes prowling about for honest men now the search would only cost him traveling expenses from Athens to Augusta—Portland Press, Friday.

We thought the editor of the Press and Postmaster Goddard had returned to Portland.

The Portland Press says: "A State paper that spans the immense gulf between Plaistead and Clever must necessarily be of extraordinary length."

The Commercial announces that the Fusionists are to give a complimentary dinner to Governor Plaistead this evening at the Exchange at "50 cents per plate" with a poem by Dr. Jordan thrown in. It will be a sweet time.

Change of Time, Oct. 18, 1890.

Leave Bangor..... 5:30 P.M.

Arrive Bangor..... 7:30 P.M.

Leave Bangor..... 7:30 P.M.

LADIES.

We have an Overstock

Winter Hosiery,

Winter Gloves and

Underwear,

Which we will close out at

MUCH BELOW COST,

And invite your attention to an early examination of the same.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

LADIES.

We have an Overstock

Winter Hosiery,

Winter Gloves and

Underwear,

Which we will close out at

MUCH BELOW COST,

And invite your attention to an early examination of the same.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/2 ST. & CO.

333 1/

000000

